Activities

Social Goals Give Basis for Change

Open forums, Senate meetings, conferences with the administration -- these are only a few of the activities that go on behind the scenes in the Student Government Association of Mars Hill College. Trying to build an effective line of communication between students and administration as well as building a more efficient government were only two of the goals of the '73-'74 SGA. Writing of a new constitution, working for the passage of the social goals to give the college a basis for change, and checking the effect of the equal rights amendment on women's hours and other restrictions -- these were only a few of the issues faced during a swiftly moving year of change for the 1973-1974 Student Government Association.

Rick West New Chief Justice in Spring

Judicial Council functions primarily to maintain guided judicial procedures as stated in the constitution of the SGA and in "Gateway," the student handbook. Judicial Council helps the Student Court operate in the most efficient manner. Members of the council include the faculty advisor to Student Court, the Chief Justice, a Senate representative, the SGA President, and the Attorney General.

House Council Writes Constitution

The House Council of MHC is composed of all students living in campus residence halls. The purpose of this council is to promote student leadership and effective government among hall residents. House Council is involved in planning various activities for students living on campus. The council urges dormitory students to participate enthusiastically in campus living. This year the governing body of the residence halls has undergone some structural changes. A new constitution was written creating for the first time a workable, legal basis for dorm government.

Student Affairs Passes Social Goals

Composed of faculty, administration and student leaders, the Student Affairs Council is one of the most important legislative bodies on campus. All student proposals and SGA legislation must pass through this council before reaching the President. Members learn to see proposals from both the administration and the student viewpoints. Members include Academic Dean, Dean of Student Development, Associate Dean of Student Development, Student Court Advisor, Student Senate Advisor, Student Senate Advisor, Chaplain, Faculty Representative, SGA President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Chief Justice, and Speakers of Men's and Women's Councils.

Board Efforts Make Union a Success

To make free time activities a cooperative factor with study and education is the purpose of the College Union. As part of its purpose the College Union Board strives to execute the meaning implied by the word "union," by centralizing college community efforts and activities, guiding students to a realistic understanding of life. It provides moral, social and educational experiences that will stimulate the growth of students into well-rounded individuals and sensitize students to an awareness of themselves.

Media Strive to "Work Together"

To help all phases of campus communications work together for a better awareness of "what's going on" this is the purpose of the communications board. The board encompasses all campus communication media and works to create a better understanding between the media thus providing better and more complete coverage of campus news. Members represent all interests including faculty, administration, students as well as those persons working directly with the Hilltop, WMHC, Cadenza and Laurel.

Members Visit Oteen Every Sunday

Membership in the Ministerial Conference is open to anyone going into any type of church-related ministry. Conference members offer devotion singing every Sunday at Oteen Veterans Hospital in Asheville. Discussions on preparing sermons, helping MHC and witnessing are only a few ministerial conference activities. Rap sessions, open to all students, are also planned to help students with their questions concerning religion.

Faculty Utilized as Resource People

Logothia is an honor club composed of religion majors who maintain an overall B average. The club is sponsored by the members of the faculty of the religion department.

Logothia members utilize the sponsoring faculty members as resource people in helping them find the answers to their questions concerning the religions of the world.

Membership in the Business Honor Club is achieved through high academic standards in business courses and is open to business majors only.

The club, begun by Miss Mildred Bingham, requires its members to have Christian characteristics, superior scholarship and other qualities.

Interns Gain Experience from Year of Teaching

Internship is an opportunity for elementary education majors to experience teaching for a year while still taking classes. Each major interns for the full year.

Both campus and off-campus internships are possible. Interning is a method of gaining practical knowledge of the world of teaching.

INTERNS of 1973-74 include P. Anderson, M. Barnette, A. Brown, J. Britton, S. Creech, E. Harkey, J. Lee, S. McCarter, M. Sightler, M. Summers, S. Varner, E. Berry, L. Bumgarner, V. Carter, B. Cook, B. Cumbey, N. Gentry, L. Gunter, C. Hammer, M. Hartline, D. Klaus, D. Klein, K. McCoy, A. Middleton, R. Moore, J. Murch, S. Penry, S. Rice, D. Russell, T. Sanchez, S. Stelges, J. Sevens, J. Stowe, S. Thomas, C. Werdebaugh, J. Hardy, B. Robinson.

Picnic Given for Juvenile Center

A professional organization for those interested in physical education, health and recreation, Pi Sigma Phi has monthly meetings with topical programs. Activities for this year included a picnic for children from the Juvenile Rehabilitation Center at Swannanoa and a careers night panel discussion. Council members include Pat Reid, Debbie Miller, Ken Williams, Susan Blakely, Cheryl Hines, Mark Dickerson, Kathy Fisher and advisor, Miss Virginia Hart.

Sigma Delta Pi Initiation in Spring

Membership in the Spanish Club is open to those who have an interest in the language and the culture. Bi-monthly meetings include discussions and presentations of different topics and study of foreign customs. Sigma Delta Pi is the national honor society for honor students. Delta Pi members are also part of the club. Sigma Delta Pi members must have 18 hours in Spanish and a 3.5 average. Honor students are recognized in the club by a special initiation in the spring.

French Meal Highlight of Year

An interest club, the French Club is open to all students interested in French culture.

Monthly meetings stress learning about customs and language. Dinner meetings are a favorite.

AHEA Goal to Help with Local Child Care Program

Founded in 1909, the American Home Economics Association works to improve the quality and standards of individual and family life through education, research, cooperative programs and public information. For the MHC student AHEA has among its goals: to become involved in local child care programs and to explore job possibilities in home economics.

Poetry Reading Highlights Year's Meetings

In 1971-1972 the Scriblerus Club became an interest club, not just an English honor club.

This idea was again part of the 1973-1974 Scrib Club. Members were those people interested in English-related activities or just interested in enjoying a lot of fun.

Activities included an evening of improvisational theatre begun with a lasagne supper, a poetry reading and a play performed by a visiting group.

Meetings took place in the homes of English professors giving the students an opportunity to get to know their professors and giving the professors an opportunity to be themselves, not just English professors.

MHC Choir Makes "Joyful Noise"

Mars Hill's touring choir, directed by Joel Stegall, performed many concerts both on the campus and on the road.

The choir worked hard to prepare various anthems and choral arrangements to be sung in both church services and at official ceremonies of the college. Many long hours of practice were necessary in order for the choir to make the best possible "joyful noise."

College Touring Choir: (First row) S. Poovey, P. Ashley, M. Kinsey, J. Blanton, S. Huff, C. Sinclair, L. Williams, E. Henderson, S. George, A. Cox, J. Hicks, Second Row: J. Stokes, B. Causby, L. # Induction Takes Place on November 8

Alpha Chi is a coeducational society that promotes academic achievement and excellence of character among college and university students. Honoring those who achieve this distinction is one of the purposes of Alpha Chi. To become a member of the North Carolina Epsilon Chapter is the highest scholastic honor it is possible to achieve at Mars Hill College.

Civitan Raises Funds for Retarded Children

Collegiate Civitan is the college level civic organization, whose purpose is to serve the college community while building for better citizenship. The club's main project is fund raising for retarded children. This is partly achieved through their Christmas sale of fruitcakes. Mars Hill College's Civitan Club is sponsored by the Senior Civitan group in the Mars Hill community.

Members Excel in the Sciences

Beta Beta Beta is a scholastic society for science scholars.

Membership is limited to those students who, after taking a certain number of hours in science, maintain a high scholastic average. Membership is a high honor.

Episcopalians form Canterbury Club

Canterbury Club members are Episcopalians here on the MHC campus. The club serves the interests of Episcopal students as well as strives to promote cooperation with other campus religious groups. The club sponsor is Mrs. Marian Tisdale, a member of the faculty in the Department of Modern Languages.

FCA Members Speak to Youth Groups

"To confront athletes and coaches and through them the youth of the nation with the challenge and adventure of following Christ and serving Him through the fellowship of the church and in their vocation." This is the purpose of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. FCA activities include National FCA Sunday and speaking in public schools and to youth groups.

Christian Student Movement Reaches Out

The Christian Student Movement on the Mars Hill College campus attempted in 1973-1974 to involve people in a process of Christian growth. Involvement provided opportunities to broaden the mind and better understand Christianity. Such programs as visiting hospitals, working with juveniles at the Swananoa Correction Center and going on weekend revival teams were a part of the Christian Student Movement's role in community involvement. Weekly Sing and Share meetings and The New Beginning, the CSM sponsored coffeehouse, were major contributions to on-campus involvement.

AGO Sponsors Guest Speakers and Organ Recitals

A.G.O., the American Guild of Organists, is an interest club whose membership is composed of anyone interested in church organists and music. The purpose of the club is to promote high standards in church music and to raise the level of efficiency in organists. This year A.G.O. has sponsored guest speakers and lecturers. A.G.O. members usher at organ recitals.

MENC Gives New Experience to Future Teachers

M.E.N.C., Music Educators National Conference, is the organization that serves as leader and spokesman for music educators in the United States. The purpose of membership in M.E.N.C. is to provide opportunities for professional development for college students in music education through on-campus activities of the chapter, regular receipt of the officers' M.E.N.C. magazine, and contacts with leaders in the profession. Goals for the club include comprehensive music programs in all schools, involvement of all ages of people in the learning of music quality, preparation of teachers, and use of the most effective techniques and resources in music education.

ACDA Conducts Choral Clinic at MHC

The ACDA, American Choral Directors Association, is an organization formed to broaden members' knowledge of choral music by exposing them to many types of choral literature and discussion of various choral styles and techniques with experienced directors. Members attend area concerts, choral festivals and reading clinics, rehearsals for other college choirs and encourage choral events at MHC. During each year the ACDA will, among other things, conduct a choral clinic on the Mars Hill campus.

"Hodie" Is Presented by Chorus

The chorus is open to all students on the Mars Hill campus and is one of the more favorite organizations for non-music majors with a special interest in music. During the first semester of the 1973-74 school year, the Chorus performed "Hodie" ("This Day") in conjunction with the college orchestra. William Thomas is director of this musical group.

Trombone Ensemble Appears on T.V.

The trombone ensemble enables the trombone section of the band to learn to work together better, and this adds to the total enjoyment of the audiences hearing the entire band.

The ensemble plays mostly light, new jazz; some of it is composed by students. Places of performance include Moore Auditorium, churches and special dinners given by Dr. Bentley.

ABOVE: N. Bumgardner, R. Roach, D. Christian, E. Kelly, R. Tompkins, P. Hines, Director R. Cryder, T. Hodges, G. Gatton, C. Allen, J. Ledford, B. Bishop, J. Hudson, B. Goodwin.

Percussion Assists Choral Clinic and N.C. Symphony

The percussion ensemble was organized in the spring of 1972. All members are allowed to direct. Classes to teach percussion are held in Asheville under the direction of Mr. Jay Gentile. Each member of the ensemble tries to master each of 23 different instruments. Its purpose is to not only help the individual student but also to help those outside the music department realize that there is a great deal more to percussion than just beating a drum.

School of Arts String Quartet Visits MHC

MTNA stresses the teaching aspect of music and the fellowship among future music teachers. Monthly meetings and a spaghetti dinner are a regular part of the club's agenda. A statewide competition in keyboard, strings and voice with money prizes is among the activities club members participate in. The main activity of the club is to bring outside performers into the school. This year the String Quartet from the North Carolina School of Arts appeared.

Concert Band Tours Tennessee

A tour including parts of Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia — plus a spring concert in March — were highlights of the year for the Concert Band. The group also performed at an open air concert and an alumni concert later in the season. These scheduled performances plus a constant readiness for unexpected concerts required constant practice and a willingness to work long hours.

Stage Band Brings Life to Campus

Membership in the M.H.C. Stage Band is open by audition only. The band maintains a relaxed atmosphere hoping to spread ideas to other schools. Jazz swing music is most often played by the band. Being a member of the Stage Band helps music students learn to improvise and "feel" music instead of merely playing notes. The type of music the band plays requires that all members be able to interpret music the way they feel it.

Marshalls Assist With President's Convocation

Selection of College marshals is based on academic standing and leadership qualities. Marshals represent the college community in areas of official college events. These include ushering at lectures and concerts, serving on reception lines and escorting Seniors at Graduation.

International students, students who have traveled extensively, those interested in the cultures of other lands and children of missionaries are invited to join the International Club. The club's purpose is to make these students feel at ease and a part of the MHC campus. The group is raising money to add to the Roman Gorski International Student Fund, a fund used for scholarships to international students.

SKL Sponsors Heart Fund Drive

Sigma Kappa Lambda has participated in intramurals, successfully completed two pledge seasons, and raised over $2,000 for the Heart Fund. SKL has provided numerous activities ranging from water skiing and formal dances to a Christmas celebration in keeping with the "holiday spirit." SKL prompts brotherhood, honor, and social responsibility.

Little Sisters Conduct Service Projects

The Little Sisters of Pi Kappa Phi is an auxiliary of the national fraternity. Little Sisters was first established at Mars Hill College in April of 1972. Growth of this auxiliary chapter has continued steadily since its inception. The main purpose of Little Sisters is service to the brotherhood, the college and the community.

Sigma Promotes School Spirit

Sigma Alpha Chi is a service sorority first established at MHC during Youth Action Week in 1966. A major service project of the sorority is the sponsoring of an orphan every year. Sigma also annually sponsors the sale of mums for homecoming and the "Mr. America" pageant.

Cyclathon to Aid Orthopedic Hospital

KAPPA PHI THETA fraternity has been busy this year revamping its organization to suit the needs of its expanding membership. Due to a conflict in ideologies and philosophies, KPT voted against Tau Kappa Epsilon's offer for Kappa to become an affiliate with TKE. Kappa had previously been working toward this end for over a year. Despite this structural change in the fraternity, Kappa Phi Theta enjoyed a good pledge season and welcomed nine new brothers.

APO Sponsors Annual Rock-A-Thon

Operating under the creed "Leadership, Friendship and Service," Alpha Phi Omega takes pride in being the only service fraternity on the Mars Hill College campus. APO sponsors the annual Rock-A-Thon held in Asheville. Their slogan was "APO Rocks so others may walk." In an attempt to sponsor a service each month APO has collected newspapers, painted the "Golden M" section, and helped fix Owen Theater for the premiere of Rivals.

WMHC — A Vital Link In Campus Communication

The hills were alive with the sound of music.

Well . . .

At least one named Mars was.

After getting off to a late start

due to equipment problems,

WMHC used new equipment to produce a new and better sound.

Student "DJ's" passed the time

by practicing their talents with the Top 40 hits and by dreaming of having the best show on campus.

This year,

the broadcast reached each dorm and hopes were high for broadcasting to other major buildings

like the College Union in the near future.

Roy Gullick served the station as manager for a second year,

as WMHC became a vital link in communications on campus.

CADENZA Gains National Renown All-American Honor in 1973

After receiving a national rating of "All-American" for the 1973 issue, the CADENZA, Mars Hill's art and literary magazine, gained new popularity among students. Ken Chamlee, the 1974 editor, kept the interest in the magazine on a high plateau by involving more students in the production of CADENZA. Not only did the editing staff grow, but also the working staff that chooses the works of MHC students to be printed grew in number. Students received awards in the form of cash prizes as well as recognition in the publication for the best in poetry, art and prose contributions.

HILLTOP Attempts More Accuracy In Covering Campus

RIGHT: Paste-up, an important part of the newspaper process, is done by Wes Pierce, Eric Garner, Marcia Cope and Jean Hawkins. ABOVE: Paperwork is an important part of editor Eric Garner's job.

The HILLTOP, in the words of its editor, tried to "improve as a paper that represented all aspects of campus life and college functions." Eric Garner, editor, began work officially on October 2. After building a staff, the paper had the never-ending task of presenting current news in an interesting way to the campus. Precise, accurate news reporting with good photography seemed to be the extras that helped make the paper an effective means of communication. The HILLTOP became a valuable record for reference when yesterday was forgotten.

Beginning with the selection of Editor Priscilla Canupp in late April and with an organizational meeting held in early September the '74 LAUREL began to take form.

The staff worked diligently to assure the publication of the yearbook in the spring.

Photographers, typists, and copy writers all worked together to meet the deadlines that counted so much in the final product.

The '74 LAUREL took on a new look.

Use of copy became more important.

Every page, picture, and word was deliberated until the '74 staff felt the best job possible had been done, and life on the Mars Hill campus had been accurately portrayed.

Athletics

Who Can Stop That Blue and Gold?

A major aspect of collegiate life -- football -- is an important part of the athletic program at Mars Hill. The LION MACHINE for the 1973 season was led by new head coach Claude "Hoot" Gibson. He assembled a staff which included several former Mars Hill gridiron stars. Emphasis on better physical conditioning and more team spirit was apparent in the hard work and determination shown in each Lion contest.

After opening with a victory over Millsaps the LIONS scored a surprise win over the Catawba Indians. From that point through the rest of the season the LIONS' playing, although erratic and inconsistent, was always exciting. The season's end left LION supporters eager to face an exciting future full of improvement and victories in 1974.

MHC Lions Whip Wofford

The Lion cagers capped a 19-14 season by snatching a NAIA District 6 play-off berth. The Lions also figured in the Carolinas Conference race, grabbing the third seed in the CC Tourney with a 7-6 league mark. Three performers claimed places in the Lion record book. All-District star Joe Bridges set a single-season scoring record, canning 762 points through the regular season. Jerry Hayes, a four-year standout, added to his total as leading career scorer, hitting for 1813 points by the end of the regular schedule. Tri-Captain Kenny Ward moved into sixth place on the Mars Hill all-time scoring list.

Freshman Jimmy Graves, junior

Mike Earwood, and a strong, experienced bench provided extra muscle as the Lions sprinted to the play-offs.

New Routines, Sharp Performances — MHC Band

A vital part of the MHC football happening is the halftime performance.

This year LION fans were given a presentation at each home game by the band, majorettes and flag corps.

New routines were presented under the direction of Ray Babelay. Classical music -- a new dimension in football halftime entertainment -- was featured.

New Coach — New Season — New Look

Mars Hill's tennis team played its first season under new head coach Alex Robins. Practice began February 1. The tennis season consisted of the regular season followed by the district tournament at Presbyterian and the conference tournament at High Point. This year's schedule included such rivals as Wofford, Emory-Henry, Gardner-Webb, Erskine, Lander, UNC-A and Lees-McRae.

Lions Baseball Team — A New Look

With eight returning lettermen, six of them starters, six new faces on the pitching staff and an entirely new coaching staff, MHC's 1974 baseball team looked forward to a much improved season. Freshmen and transfers added a new strength at several key positions. A tough 28-game schedule included nationally ranked High Point, Elon and Erskine. Under the guidance of new coach Mike Prior and the leadership of co-captains John Allison and David Smith, the Lions expected a winning season.

Lady Lions Display Lion Spirit

Mars Hill College produced a dedicated group of Lady Lions with a great desire to play basketball. From the beginning of a long, hard two-month practice session to the end of a tightly scheduled season, the girls showed a tremendous determination to improve with every game. From arguing with a Greensboro gas attendant for gas to having their bus break down on the way to Western Carolina, MHC Lionesses exemplified the fighting Lion spirit.

Novelty Sports Interest Many

Fencing is a sport growing in popularity because of its uniqueness. Co-ordination and agility are basic requirements. A class of twenty-one students is taught. Proper fencing form, fencing skills and how to judge fencing matches are the basic items learned by class participants.

RIGHT: Team members include Stephen DuBois, Akitaka Nara and Steve Howie.
BELOW: Practice requires a great degree of concentration as well as skill.

Pool Capacity Not Utilized

Swimming is a popular pastime with Mars Hill College students. At present, though, the pool is operating at only approximately 25% capacity. The pool is open alternating evenings and afternoons. Student lifeguards are used for the protection of swimmers; and courses in beginning swimming, intermediate swimming, lifesaving and Water Safety Instruction are taught. These courses provide students with a more thorough knowledge of water safety.

MHC Gymnasts Perform During Halftimes

Under the direction of Dr. Walker and Mr. Phillips the MHC gymnastics program has expanded.

Gymnasts now perform during halftimes of basketball games.

MHC gymnasts attended the Physical Education Convention.

Many long hours of practice and a high degree of skill is required to attain acceptable gymnastic standards.

Practice and co-ordination are the keys to a good performance in any gymnastic event, but especially on the "Horse."

Mini-Mester Offered for Third Year

Mars Hill's location makes it ideal for use as a base for travel to different ski resorts in the Asheville region. Wolf Laurel is a well-known resort used by many avid campus skiers. Parties, dances and all types of recreation are a popular part of the Wolf Laurel scene. For the past two years a successful mini-mester course in skiing has been taught at Appalachian in Boone. Students this year continue to enjoy the recreation of skiing.

In Memory Sally Bell Moffitt

Surely this hour reminds us that we must learn to live with life's tragic element. On this campus, we are accustomed to the sounds of vitality and life, to celebration and joy; and we are stunned by the intrusions of tragedy. And yet, in our moments of serious reflections about life, we know that it is not all celebration and joy; there is also the dark spectre of sin and suffering and loss. Our view of life and our faith are woefully inadequate if they do not take into account life's tragic element as well as its joy. This hour is a poignant reminder that life's richness grows out of personal relationships — and the loss of a single member permanently diminishes our whole community. For her close friends, Sally's death is a deep and personal grief; for all it has brought sorrow and a sense of loss.

In Memory Tom C. Hodges, Jr.

"My life has been based around three central concerns, and these have been and will (I hope) continue to be the controlling factors in my daily existence. I live for my God, myself and music.

"I became a Christian and a Baptist when I was seven. As I look back, I was so young that I now realize that I may not have known a whole lot about what I was doing. But I found out . . .

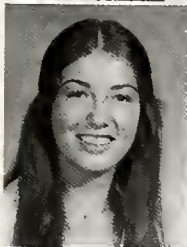

"While I have a strong belief in God, I also have a strong belief in myself. I learned early in life that little was to be gained by timidity and that the quiet, shy kid's ideas never got across. So I have cultivated a confidence that borders on egomania. While I try not to be obnoxious, I am outspoken; and I consciously make an effort to be a leader.

"Finally, I live for music. I believe in music. I have seen music's power and the wondrous feats of communication it can accomplish. Music has been my mode of expression and my catalyst since I was very young, and I know how much it has meant to me."

Dr. Bentley — An Atypical College President

Striking a proper balance between a conservative posture and a liberal stance in the operation of a college is a delicate task.

Extremes could be fatal. Dr. Bentley — former high jumper turned tightrope walker — does the job with finesse. A keen competitor who strives to make the college competitive in its own field, he infuses both students and faculty with enthusiasm.

Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow . . .

Big weekend — Everybody's coming back — Homecoming 1973 Mars Hill College. Preparations for the weekend ahead appeared on Monday as spirit signs and displays began appearing all over campus. A pep rally on Thursday kicked off the beginning of homecoming activities.

Friday night, the music of Earth Wind, and Fire was heard in Moore Auditorium.

Alarm clocks woke many students bright and early Saturday morning.

Final preparations of floats, signs and displays were completed before 12:00.

Dedication of the new Wren College Union was directly before lunch and the big question was where to find a seat.

An exciting, closely contested game with Gardner-Webb Bulldogs was disappointing only in the final score.

The LIONS gave their fans many thrills but did not produce a victory.

A mad rush followed the game to beat the line in the cafeteria and change clothes for the dance and the music of the Cambridge Men.

Homecoming 1973 —

Brown Dorm Spirit Trophy Winner

TOP: the Lion helps the littlest cheerer lead the crowd in yelling for victory. BOTTOM: spirit banners reflect not only Homecoming enthusiasm, but also the mood of the times.

Bascom Lamar Lunsford helped to bring the skill and artistry of Appalachian folklore and music to the world by performing at the White House and before Queen Elizabeth of England, by recording over three thousand ballads and folksongs for the Library of Congress, and by writing two booklets concerning folklore and ballads. The vast Lunsford collection of folklore material is now part of MHC's Memorial Library. An annual event on the MHC campus, this year's Festival was more successful than previously. Dedicated to the preservation of Appalachian music and folklore, the Festival is the only one to bear Mr. Lunsford's name. Musicians, dancers, and craftsmen from surrounding towns and MHC participated in giving spectators demonstrations and shows.

Lunsford Mementos Exhibited in Library During Festival

Festival Grows in Size — Crafts Added

TOP: Participants in the festival find time to "Fiddle Around." RIGHT: Banjo players vary in methods of playing. The use of another instrument at the same time is an added attraction.

UPPER LEFT: Carving a wood flower in full bloom is hard work and requires skill and patience. LOWER LEFT: Delicate carving all on the same branch of wood gives an interesting effect. BELOW: Whittling is an old past time but can be very productive, especially when you whittle toys for kids.

From Dracula to Transcendental Meditation Guest Speakers Interest Students

The death of J.F.K., problems in economics, race, what is Transcendental Meditation? — these are only a few of the topics Mars Hill students had the opportunity to hear discussed. Speakers such as Bob Katz, Julian Bond, Louis Rukeyser, and Maharish Mahesh Yogi left many varied impressions in the minds of students.

'Miss Laurel 1974' — Miss Sandy Durham

The 1974 "Miss Laurel" Pageant was held February 6. Excitement, glamour and mystery filled Moore Auditorium as the evening progressed to its exciting conclusion. At the end of a tension filled night, Miss Sandy Durham, representing the Senior Class, was crowned "Miss Laurel 1974."

Original Musical by MHC Professor

Produced this year by the Mars Hill Theatre Arts Department was "Rivals," a new musical comedy based on Richard Sheridan's classic 1775 comedy, "The Rivals."

"Rivals" was written by C. Robert Jones, a member of the Theatre Arts staff since 1971.

Since 1966, the MHC Theatre Arts Department has used Owen Theatre, formerly a Baptist church, for presenting its productions.

Owen has been undergoing modifications for the past five years.

This year the renovation completed its first phase.

RIGHT: Pierre LaSalle or Chuck Montgomery becomes upset with Jack Absolute, David Covington, and challenges him to a duel which leads (BOTTOM) to Absolute's pretended injury to gain Lydia, Pam Smith, his true love while Faulkland, Neil St. Clair; Sir Lucius O'Trigger, Warren Pearson; and Sir Anthony Absolute, Dr. Earl Leininger, watch.

Premieres on Mars Hill Stage

LEFT: Mrs. Malaprop or Theresa Phillips arrives in Paris and makes herself known not only to the desk clerk but to Sir Lucius O'Trigger, played by Warren Pearson.
BELOW: Lydia and Juliette, Pam Smith and Pam Polk, sadly remember their lost loves, Faulkland and Absolute.

Tap dancing requires concentration as well as precision and coordination, and a good instructor like Mrs. Jill Prior (top) helps greatly. TOP RIGHT:
Actors begin rehearsals
for spring production,
House of Blue Leaves.

Earth, Wind, and Fire Homecoming 1973

Entertainment at MHC comes in many varying forms. Students find relaxing entertainment at the Sunday, Wednesday and Friday movies, especially enjoyable since they have included such favorites as The Sound of Music, The Andromeda Strain, Slaughterhouse Five, The Other, and WUSA. Coffeehouse entertainment is always popular; and, of course, special concerts by such visiting artists as the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra are enjoyable. Homecoming brought Earth, Wind and Fire in concert and dances have featured such bands as T.A.V.I.C., Grain, Tomorrow and Merging Traffic.

RIGHT and BELOW: T.A.V.I.C. was one of the most popular bands to appear on the campus during 1973-74.

*Together
we live alone . . .*

*pieces of one hundred eighteen years,
in all the history we know . . .*

We pass before ourselves and before the mountains . . .

*We're not the things we've done:
We are the things we try,
the things we learn . . .*

Some of us are born here.

There are a great many thank you's to be said when a job like producing a yearbook is over. The '74 Laurel owes a great deal to a great many people. Thank you goes to Mr.

Smith, my advisor, who always remained patient and calm and who always helped. Thank you goes to the staff who did their jobs. Thank you goes to those people who weren't on the staff but who spent long hours typing, writing headlines, and doing whatever else needed doing. Thank you goes especially to Vivian and Ken — Vivian for putting up with late hours and rustling papers and a grouchy roommate and Ken for just putting up with me in general. But the biggest thank you goes to you — the reader and the subject. You made MHC what it was this year and what it will be in the future. Without you there would be no '74 Laurel because we only recorded the things you did. This is your Laurel and your year at Mars Hill College. Thank you for making it what it was.

—Priscilla Canupp
Editor

The 1974 edition of the LAUREL was composed and compiled by the LAUREL staff of Mars Hill College and published by the college. Keys Printing Corporation of Greenville, South Carolina, printed and bound the book. The cover is Regatta Blue artificial leather, whirlpool grain with gold overtone and is by the S.K. Smith Co., Chicago, Illinois. Body copy is set in 10 point Optima, captions in 8 point Helvetica, and headlines in 24 point Mundus I. Class portraits were by Russ Johnson of Asheville.

Copy contributors included Priscilla Canupp, Susan Carscaddon, Thomas Hinton, George Jones, Sarah Traylor, Dee Tyler and Larry Pike, who did the Introduction and Conclusion.
